

The HP rp3000 Point of Sale Solution combines everything you need to reach retail success

Map out the perfect solution to prepare your business for the road to success with the retail-ready HP rp3000 Point of Sale (POS) Solution. Create a POS solution that's more sophisticated than a cash register or PC when you combine the HP rp3000 POS System, compatible HP peripherals—from magnetic stripe readers to monitors, printers to cash drawers—and a wide selection of market-specific applications from our many trusted software partners.

Buy what you need, and as your business grows, you can easily purchase more systems, additional peripherals and new software to help your store run more smoothly. Plus, get service and support for everything at once.

Excellent experience—for you and your customers

Get closer to your customers with a small solution footprint that maximizes counter space. Combining the HP rp3000 with relevant software applications helps you anticipate your customers' needs by tracking purchasing habits or accessing customer data. Save time with inventory management tools that keep all your information on your system. As your business grows, you can quickly and easily upgrade applications or peripherals, such as a fast and accurate barcode scanner to help reduce checkout time. The affordable HP rp3000 POS Solution makes it easy to add additional lanes for a smoother customer experience.

Durability & reliability

Retail business can be tough. You need a solution that can stand up to the challenge of your day-to-day operations. The HP rp3000 POS Solution is designed to support extended business hours without interruptions. The HP rp3000 POS System itself features a steel chassis that has been extensively tested to withstand long-term wear in a typical retail environment. An oversized cooling system and the energy-efficient Intel® Atom™ processor require less energy to keep the system operating, which can translate into a longer system lifecycle and lower energy costs.

Trusted service and total support when you need it

HP and our valued partners provide worry-free installation and maintenance with a standard three-year limited warranty on full hardware bundles for end-to-end service in one phone call. Select HP Care Pack services<sup>1</sup> can also help you tailor and extend the level of support you receive for your unique business. And with a broad range of trusted software partners that provide applications specific to your industry, you can be sure your HP rp3000 POS Solution will function the way you need it to.
